"I am in favor of such an amendment to our primary law as will make the will of the people supreme. I believe in the right of the people to rule. We elected a set of delegates to the national convention at Baltimore, and they were solemnly pledged by the democratic voters of Nebraska to support Champ BURLINGTON STATION-Teath and Clark for president of the United States. After he had received a majority of the votes and his nomination was practically assured, these men led by one who secretly sought that nomination for himself, repudiated the instructions received from the people, deserted Clark and brought about his defeat. Conduct of this kind was once aptly described by Hon. W. J. Bryan as an 'embezzlement of power.' It is an embessiement of power and as such it ought to be dealt with as a felony. If I am elected governor, t shall recommend a law making the betrayal of a public trust punishable by confinement in the penitentiary, and a disqualification from ever again holding office, or ever again being a delegate to WEBSTER STREET STATION Fig. a convention. (From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., May 5-(Special)-The promised confession of faith which Colonel John G. Maher of Lincoln has promised the public for so long when he should file for the democratic nomination for governor was given out for publication today in connection with his filing with the secretary of state for the nomination. Following is his declaration: ernor on the democratic ticket, because

I believe the voters of the state desire an opportunity to support some candion questions vital to the interests of Nebraska, unclouded by subterfuge, decelt, ambiguous declarations and insidious means employed by self seekers for the embezzlement of power. It is with great ay and unadulterated pride we point to the fact that the intelligence of the American nation is practically a unit in support of the policies of President Wilson, who is pre-eminently the man of the hour, whose masterful accomplishments have earned for him imperishable fame as a statesman and leader of men, and since he has taken personal control of the State department he has made much progress in settling our tangled affairs in Mexico, and now that our armed forces are on foreign soil he should have the support of every loyal American, and I am in favor of his renomination in 1916. It is reported that a candidate who contemplates filing will rely on the popularity of the president to pull him through; but he will find that mere lip service is not going to deceive the public. While he is plotting to bring about the retirement of the presdent with but a single term, in order that a member of his own family may be elevated to the place, the democracy will not be misled by his professions of loyalty to the president.

"I am opposed to prohibition and in favor of temperance and stand squarely with President Wilson on the liquor question. Before the campaign closes I will prove to the voters of this state that prohibition would cost the farmers, according to United States statistical abstracts, $200,000,000 in reduction of their purchasing power, that it would greatly increase tax burdens, cripple the public school system, that it is opposed to na-ture, a quack remedy for temperance, contrary to reason, antagnostic to divine order, and a breeder of hypocrites, liars, sneaks and petty criminals. The Slocum law which we now have gives to the cities, towns and villages the right, to each determine for itself whether or not it shall permit or prohibit the sale of liquor, and if elected I pledge to uphold and enforce that law, and I will veto any prohibitory bill or any bill that changes the present liquor law.
